

elemental led[®]

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Elemental LED, Inc. is a leading U.S. based engineering and technology company located in Reno, NV that manufactures an extensive portfolio of superior linear, accent, and task LED lighting products. Our technology features unparalleled CRI and R values that produce flawless, and vibrant high-fidelity color rendering. We are proud to be America's largest manufacturer of low-voltage linear LED lighting solutions. We are known for our innovative technology, unmatched quality, and best-in-class customer experience.

Configuring LED lighting can seem intimidating and complicated. However, the beauty of LED lighting is the wide range of colors, the ability to change colors, and the complete control over the brightness of the light. Elemental LED has capitalized on the exciting, under-served, and expanding market of "configured" LED lighting solutions and continue to show outstanding growth year over year.

Divisions of Elemental LED

diode led[®]

a division of elemental LED

Diode LED is a branded division of Elemental LED servicing the wholesale marketplace. Elemental LED created the Diode LED product line to support the lighting needs of both large and small projects for contractors, electricians and the designer in each of us.

With Diode LED as a lighting partner, clients benefit from a widely recognized brand that delivers tailored product, programs, and services. The core of our customer dedication lies in the lighting solutions we design and engineer to be the highest performing in the industry as well as making them easy to understand, adopt, benefit, and apply to any application or space. These traits are what have made us a success with lighting professionals across North America.

L I G H T I N G

a division of elemental LED

Lucetta Lighting is the newly launched specification division of Elemental LED. Built upon more than a decade of manufacturing expertise, Lucetta Lighting satisfies a demand for precision-engineered lighting solutions specifically for specifiers, architects, and lighting designers seeking maximum light performance. Our mission is to deliver innovative and patented lighting technology combined with best-in-class services and a customer experience like no other.

Lucetta Lighting is your premier partner for architectural and commercial lighting solutions. We pair world-class project support with ground-breaking LED technology offering fully diffused linear lighting, high-grade power supplies, multi-application control systems, extensive custom assembly options, and fast turnaround times.

